Shakes Hands Coldly and Formally with His Brother.

Henry Selomon Seeks to Check Him by an Injunction.

to Bloomingdale Asylum on Aug. 8 anwas declared same by a Sheriff's tury last Friday, is to-day in complete possession Solomon neckwear establishmen at 547 Broadway. He also rejoices it the fact that ne is a Benedict, having narried Miss Clara Thomas on Saturda

Mr. Solomon's acquisition of the whole sale store that his brother has been running since Aug. 8 was accomplished without bloodshed or even a harsh word Soon after 9 A. M. Mr. Solomon and Attorney R. J. Haire entered the elevator at 547 Broadway, and the gentle man whose sanity has been in dispute was greeted by the elevator boy with "Why, good morning, Mr. Selemon, that Mr. Haire subsequently said seemed to indicate that his client is not such borrible man as he has been pic

The clerks and minor employees had been on the lookout all morning, and when Mr. Solomon entered they were all assembled in the corner of the store They healtated when their employer entered, but were reassured when he shook hands with all, and then all began talking about how nice be looked in his wedding suit, which Mrs. Solomon had persuaded him to wear downtown this morning.

The most interesting formally in the story of the story had persuaded him to wear downtown this morning.

The most interesting formality was yet to come, however, and even big Mr. Haire says he held his breath as David Sciomon entered the office, where his brother. Henry, the last-named man's brother-in-law, Mr. Kaiser, and Marcus, the salesman who was so sure that David had gone daft, were seated.

As David and Mr. Haire approached the office. Henry opened the door, and extending his hand, said, coldly:

"Good Inforning, David."

"Good morning," responded David, as

"Good morning, David."
"Good morning," responded David, as he formally touched the extended hand. "What do you think of yourself," he continued.
"Tut, tut!" said Mr. Haire, "none of that, now," and then Mr. Henry Solomon shook hands with the lawyer, who had described him as worse than Judas.

I did so, he said:

Let bygones be bygones. Mr. Haire. by all over now."

There was an awkward pause just then, during which David glarad at there, during which David glarad at there, during which David glarad at there, during which David glarad at there was an awkward pause just then, during which David glarad at there was committed. The graph of the producting a gold watch, a number of rings and a pocketbook, which he handed to his brother. They had been taken from David when he was committed. The money returned to him was the first he has had since Aug. 3.

Then Henry, Brother-in-Law Kaiser and Marcus, the salesman, all picked up their hats and solemnly walked out. David Solomon said all his employees who tried to make him out insane will also walk out soon, and those who were loval to him abd insectormer colaborer. Miss Thomas, now Mrs. Solomon, will be promoted.

It took Mr. Solomon only an hour or so to learn the exact condition of the firm's business, and then he said the stock had been allowed to run down to such an extent that he would have to begin ordering goods immediately. He expressed regret that the $30.99 purchase which his brother asserted was proof of his insanity, but which the Sheriff's jury declared had been a good business transaction, had not been allowed to stand. He said the firm needs just about that much stock to fill present orders and be prepared for future ones.

During the time a reporter was in the ent orders and be prepared for future ones.

During the time a reporter was in the store with Attorney Haire Mr. Solomor was giving directions to his employees and was always obeyed with promptness. He was dignified, and he spoke with authority, but at the same time was courteous to all.

He explained to the reporter that he did not care to discuss the $5,090 damage suit that he expects to bring againshis brother until he gets his business model and the same time should be suited by the same time and the same time was courteous to all.

"That will be attended to later on," he said, "as will the disposition of employees who were traitors."

It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs Solomon to be married again by a rabbi Mrs. Solomon, it was said, will adop Mrs. Solomon, it was said, will adop Solomon to be married again by a raid Mrs. Solomon, it was said, will adopt the Hebrew faith.

Later in the morning Adolph 1. Sar ger, counsel for Henry Solomon, of tained a temporary injunction from Judge McAdam, restraining David a Bolomon from interfering with the artists of the firm of D. J. Solomon of Co. The bond in the case is only $250.

"Lord Dunraven agreed to meet us to-morrow forenoon and talk over matters. I expect to see the members of the committee to-day some time at my downtown office, in Broad street, but, of course, we cannot decide upon anything till the Earl is there to consult with us."

"Do you know anything about the report that Lord Dunraven has challenged Royal Phelps Carroll to race the Nayahoe and Valkyrie in American waters after the Cup contests for the Brenton Reef Cup?"

"I don't think there is any truth in the report, said Mr. Smith. "though I did not ask Lord Dunraven about It. In the first place, it would be too late for such a contest after the America's Cup races were over, and in the second place the Nayahoe could not possibly lost after shedown. "Another reason for believing that such a contest would be impossible is that Mr. Carroll will not be here for the next two or three months, for I know that he is going to remain abroad for some time."

"Cards were sent up to Mr. Kerr, Lord Dunraven's brother-in-law, and to the Earl himself, but word was brought down that they would be usable to see any one this morning.

Designer George L. Watson came down for a few moments. "I do not know what Lord Punraven's plans are for the day," said he "and I don't believe he has any definite idea of what he will do.
